Affinity Tables and Breakfast Roundtables....Small Groups with Big Topics

The annual JAG conference is right around the corner, and there are two conference opportunities planned at which attendees can share ideas on specific topics in a casual setting.

The “Affinity Luncheon” is back by popular demand on Trade Show Day, Thursday, June 1st. This luncheon is an extraordinary opportunity to explore a single topic with experts and others who share your interest. There are eleven different Affinity Tables planned this year on topics ranging from the latest rulings on Closed Captioning to how to improve your Sports Production. From Lighting Tools to Social Media, and from 5G Wireless Advancements to the importance of Channel Branding. There is truly a table for everyone!

Affinity Tables have limited seating, however, so sign up for the table of your choice at the Meet and Greet on Wednesday night or at Registration on Thursday morning.

Attendees will also have the chance to share ideas, challenges and successes at Friday morning’s “Networking Breakfast”. There are four roundtables planned on Volunteer Development and Management, the Future of Media and Your Community, Copyrights and Fair Use, and Programming Development. Do you need some helpful advice on a new initiative? Want to share your great experience with others? Or maybe just want to participate in a discussion about where our industry is headed? Enjoy breakfast, coffee and good conversation.

Year after year, conference attendees tell us that networking opportunities are one of the most important reasons to attend this conference. People truly value the chance to talk with and exchange ideas with others in the PEG, media and technology communities. We’d love to see you there. Please join us!

Member Spotlight

By Debbe Gist, Membership Committee

Jim Bullard is currently serving his 7th year as an elected Councilman in Piscataway Township. Jim has also been volunteering at Piscataway Community Television for 21 years. During that time he has been named PCTV's Volunteer of the Year nine times to acknowledge the many, many hours he devotes to the station each year. Jim has done every job there is at the station, including being the floor manager, camera operator, reporter and assisting with training new members. He is currently PCTV's "volunteer mentor" and as such he works one on one with new volunteers and gets them familiar with how to set up the studio, the equipment, the set, etc. so they don't feel overwhelmed when they first start working with the equipment. As a Councilman, Jim keeps his fellow council members up to date on all the things PCTV is doing and the events being covered and reminds them of what an asset the station is to the community! As a municipal elected official and a very active member, and strong advocate of an access TV station, Jim Bullard's selection as JAG's 2017 Municipal Excellence award is very well deserved. Congratulations

Welcome New Organizational Member Helmer, Conley, & Kasselmann, P.A.

JAG Members,

We would like to thank Ken Fellman for developing a relationship with Helmer, Conley, & Kasselmann, P.A. and the Jersey Access Group. Ken has provided legal assistance to JAG for the last few years. Ken's firm is located in Colorado but his roots are in NJ where he lived so many years. During that time, it became clear that JAG would need to find a firm that was licensed to practice in NJ. Through Ken's efforts he is now an Associate in Helmer, Conley, & Kasselmann, P.A. Along with becoming an Organizational Member of JAG, Helmer, Conley, & Kasselmann will also be a sponsor of our conference and supported it with a program ad. Ken Fellman and Brandon Dittman will be joining us at the conference and be participating in the Welcome Affinity Lunch and workshops. Brandon's expertise includes the FCC rules and regulations on the use of drones.
